

SERMON Q's

Confess Your Sins to One Another

June 23, 2019

James 5: 13-16

1. What is so hard about sharing your sin struggles with someone else?
2. What are some unhealthy responses we can give to someone's confession instead of praying together? What powerful things take place when we pray together about our sin?
3. How might confessing sins to one another impact your experience of community in your church family or your small group of friends?
4. How does the good news of Jesus free you, and even compel you, to confess your sins to someone else?
5. (For Personal Reflection) Is there a sin struggle in your life that you need to confess to someone? Who might be an appropriate person with whom you could share?
