A Call to Those Who Believe: Faith, Obedience, & Trust
May 1, 2016
Hebrews 10:19-39

- 1.) What are some different things you feel called to in life? How do they fit with your calling from God to faith, obedience, and trust?
- 2.) Chad challenged us to find our value in the “credentials of Christ.” What are other places you tend to find your value, and why are they inferior to the permanence of your identity in Christ?
- 3.) Part of the call for believers who have trusted the sacrifice of Jesus is “obedience from a transformed heart.” In what ways does your life look different now from before you met Jesus or from 10 years ago in your walk with him?
- 4.) Share one particular situation where you are having to trust God right now. What makes it difficult to trust him in this place, and what does the writer to the Hebrews say in this passage to encourage you?
- 5.) Chad said, “If following Christ isn’t hard, you may not be doing it right.” What was his point, and how does this challenge you in your places of comfort?
- 6.) What things help you to keep your eyes fixed on Jesus as you run the race that He has called you to in this life?
